The screenshot displays the FamilySearch website interface. The browser tab shows "Search Results - Michael McGue". The URL is "familysearch.org/search/record/results?q.anyPlace=Ireland&q.givenName=Michael&q.surname=Mcgue". The page features a top navigation bar with "FamilySearch" and links to "Family Tree", "Search", "Memories", "Indexing", and "Activities". Below this is a secondary navigation bar with "Records", "Images", "Family Tree", "Genealogies", "Catalog", "Books", and "Wiki".

The main content area is titled "Filter Results (175)" and includes a "Filter Results" section with buttons for "Collection", "Sex", "Race", "Birth", "Marriage", "Death", "Other", and "Residence". To the right of these buttons are links for "PREFERENCES" and "SEARCH".

The search results are presented in a table with three columns: "Name", "Events", and "Relationships". The table lists several records for Michael McGue, including birth and census information, and lists related individuals such as his spouse, children, and other family members.

On the right side of the page, there is a "Search" panel with a close button (X). This panel contains sections for "Add Ancestor Information" (with fields for "First Names" and "Last Names"), "Add Life Event" (with tabs for "ANY", "BIRTH", "MARRIAGE", "RESIDENCE", and "DEATH", and fields for "Place" and "Year (Range)"), "Add Family Member" (with tabs for "SPOUSE", "FATHER", "MOTHER", and "OTHER PERSON"), and "Add Record Options" (with fields for "LOCATION", "TYPE", "BATCH NUMBER", and "IMAGE GROUP NUMBER (DGS) OR FILM NUMBER"). At the bottom of the panel are "SEARCH" and "RESET" buttons.

FamilySearch

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

FamilySearch is a nonprofit organization and website offering genealogical records, education, and software. It is operated by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS Church), and is closely connected with the church's Family History Department.^{[3][4]} The Family History Department was originally established in 1894 as the Genealogical Society of Utah (GSU) and is the largest genealogy organization in the world.^[5] FamilySearch maintains a collection of records, resources, and services designed to help people learn more about their family history. Facilitating the performance of LDS ordinances for deceased relatives is another major aim of the organization. Although it requires user account registration, it offers free access to its resources and service online at FamilySearch.org. In addition, FamilySearch offers personal assistance at more than 5,100 family history centers in 140 countries, including the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah.^[6] The Family Tree section allows user-generated content to be contributed to the genealogical database. As of February 2021, there are over 1.3 billion individuals in the tree and the historical records database contains over 5.7 billion digital images, including digitized books, digitized microfilm, and other digital records.^{[7][8]}

The screenshot shows a web browser window with multiple tabs. The active tab is 'Learning • FamilySearch'. The address bar shows 'familysearch.org/learning'. Below the browser window, there is a yellow announcement banner with the title 'FAMILY HISTORY LIBRARY ANNOUNCEMENT'. The text in the banner reads: 'We hope you will visit us! We are excited to provide an opportunity for you to discover and connect to your family. Pursuant to Salt Lake County Health Policy, (ages 2 and up), regardless of vaccination status. Our hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday. No reservations needed unless group is required. We will expand as conditions change. Further opening information will be updated here and at FamilySearch newsroom.' Below the banner is a photograph of a family of four (a woman, a young girl, and a man) smiling and looking at a smartphone. A green rectangular box is overlaid on the photo, containing the text 'Family History Library Learning'.
